One of the best pass-catchers in the Northern Peninsula this fall, and Grayling area fans are still talking about a game two weeks ago where the Vikings were down 27-0 at the end of three periods, and lost 27-21. Lowe, a senior, grabbed all three scoring plays in this game, for 220 yards.

Last week, he had another eight receptions, one of 55 yards setting up a touchdown, and played a strong defensive role from his safety slot.

This past season he caught 12 touchdown passes, scoring points to lead the Northern Lower Michigan League in passing.

Smock, Holmes Honorable Mention

Lowe, Hartman and Hunter are Named to All-Conference Team

Three Viking football standouts this past season were given due recognition Monday night as they were named to the Northern Lower Michigan League All-Conference offensive team.

Named from Grayling were: flankerback, Allen Lowe; end, Vern Hartman; and guard, John Hunter.

Top vote getter was Allen Lowe, senior flankerback. Lowe hauled in 57 passes for 903 yards with 12 of the catches going for touchdowns as he scored 72 points.

Hartman, a junior, was a standout on both offense and defense. He teamed well with Lowe in the pass catching department as his catches set up numerous touchdowns and kept drives going.

Hunter, a senior, anchored both the Viking's offensive and defensive line, but was noted for his play in giving the Viking quarterbacks time to get their passes off with his offensive blocking.

No one from the Vikings made the defensive team, but Mike Smock, quarterback and a half-back Dave Holmes were given honorable mention.

Smock, a senior, counted for 11 touchdowns this year, eight by passing and three by running. He also kicked a 32 yard field goal. Smock was hampered with a knee injury and missed three of the Viking games.

Holmes, a junior, was the leading ground gainer for the Vikings as he had 629 yards in six conference games for 105 yards per game average. He finished the scoring for Grayling in the final game when he took a 60 yard screen pass from Bruce Burkett for the TD.

Head Coach Mike Wieland's Vikings had one of their best offensive seasons in years as they scored 181 points in eight games.

Senior Band At Central

On Nov. 2 the Grayling senior band made a trip to Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant, to see a football game between Central and Western Illinois 30-28. The main purpose of this trip was to see the Chippewa marching band perform.

The CMU band has 130 members and is under the direction of Norman Dietz. For the half-time show they featured "Great Moments in Musical Comedy." The band performed many difficult formations and played such songs as "Oklahoma," "76 Trombones" from the Music Man, "Big D" from Most Happy Fella, "Maria" from West Side Story and "I Could Have Danced All Night" from My Fair Lady. Chaperones for the trip were LeRoy Christian and Don Sorenson. The band would like to thank Mr. Sorenson for driving the bus.

Something Old?

Does your little girl have a doll that she is tired of playing with? We could put a pretty new dress on that doll and give it to some little girl on Christmas morning. All little girls like dolls and some might not get one. Perhaps you might have some doll crib blankets or sheets. We can use them, too. Would you check and let us know please?

BY CARL MINOR

Fundamentally there are two methods of staging a play: central staging and proscenium staging. Most high school theater-goers are familiar with the proscenium stage, an elevated platform at one end of the auditorium with the side facing the audience open for viewing the action. On the proscenium stage itself there is a possibility of three types of sets. These are the drapery set or cyclorama; the wing and drop set, consisting of a painted drop at the back of the stage and a number of wing flats on each side; and the box set, consisting of flats on three sides, with the audience side open.

Central staging is known by a variety of names: arena theater, theater-in-the-round, circle theater, or thrust staging. It is the type of staging used in the Cherry County Playhouse in Traverse City and the Houghton Lake Playhouse in Houghton Lake. It is the type of staging that the Viking Drama Club will use in its presentation of Pride and Prejudice. This is not the first time, though, that the local thespians have used this method of staging. It was used for their presentation of the one-act play festival two years ago. In 1967, it was used for the production of The Wall, which won honors when presented by the students at the Central Michigan University drama festival. Last year it was used in the production of Claudius.

Each method of production has its advantages and disadvantages. Without question, the business and scenic requirements of certain plays can strain the limitations of central staging. Some plays cannot technically be produced as theater-in-the-round. On the other hand, arena theater, with the audience seated around the stage, is more realistic than proscenium staging. There is no one side for the actor to favor. The actor performs as though he were in a room with four walls. This is an important characteristic of central staging where the stage area favors no one portion of the audience offers the greatest challenge to both actor and director. At no time is an actor turned away from the audience. Also, since there is no back ground scenery and little use of stage properties, the actors must depend upon their own acting skills to present the play's theme. They receive no help from glamorous and colorful staging effects. Greater acting ability definitely is required in theater-in-the-round. Flaws in the performance cannot be readily covered up in central staging.

In central staging the audience actually becomes a part of the play. There is a closer intimacy between the actor and the audience. There are no footlights to separate actors from audience. The seating arrangement usually allows more people to be seated near the stage and therefore, to see and hear better. The actors themselves enter the stage from the audience, often playing within the aisles. The close contact with the actors makes the audience feel they're a part of the performance. The theater-goer becomes fundamentally involved with the conflicts presented on stage. And, since there are few, if any, scenic effects to help them, the members of the audience, like the actors, are challenged to use their imaginations.

Arena theater has other advantages. There is a reduction in the high cost of scenery, and yet the use of scenery is not prohibited. Each production has a mobility not possible in traditional proscenium staging. The play can easily be moved from one location to another; it can be literally taken to the audience. This fall the Viking Drama Club will do this. After two performances here in Grayling, Pride and Prejudice will be taken to Frederic for a third performance.

The Old Timer

"Ulcers are something you get from mountain-climbing over mole hills."

Time To Spare

By GERALD ANDREWS - Retirement Adviser

Keeping up with the Joneses. The traditional American game of keeping up with the Joneses is changing, according to a recent report by the U.S. government.

The ground rules remain the same, if you simply mean having what the other guy has and darn the consequences. But how much you'll need to keep your head above water, or, on the other hand, how far you'll go into debt if you don't watch out, no longer means precisely what it did only a few years ago.

In a pamphlet called Retired Couple's Budget for a Moderate Income, the Bureau of Labor Statistics points out that one of the most significant things about the decision in any particular case is simply where you happen to live in these United States.

Broadly speaking, it costs more to live in the city than in rural districts, and less to live in the South than in any other part of the country.

The most expensive place of all, as tabulated in this report, turns out to be Honolulu, which required a budget of $4,434 in 1966. That figure includes $1,286 for food, and $1,502 for housing.

The cheapest city was Baton Rouge, La., where the total budget ran to $3,486, with $1,116 for food, and $998 for housing.

These are just a few of the sample figures. The entire table shows striking variations among selected areas from coast-to-coast and beyond. And some facts look bizarre, for instance the fact that restaurant bills were lower in Green Bay, Wis., than anywhere else.

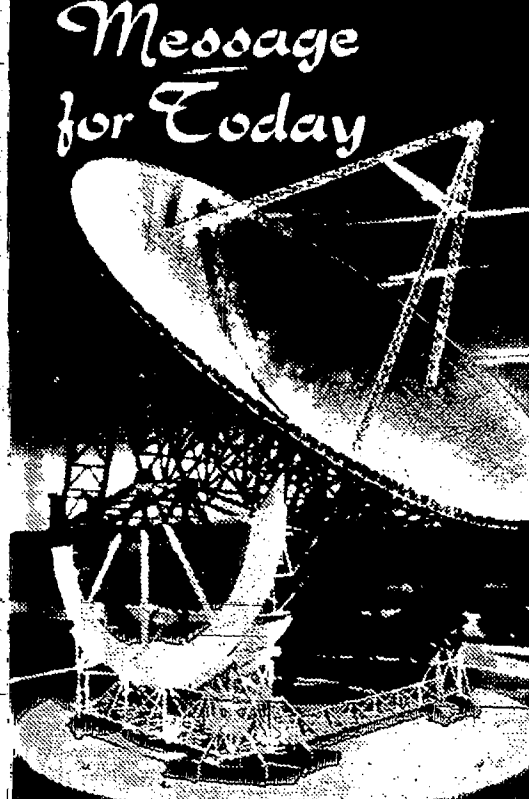

Since the statistics are two years old, obviously the rise in the cost of living (about 5 per cent) has to be added before a balance for today can be struck. Still, the general pattern revealed by the Bureau of Labor Statistics remains valid. By examining it, you can judge for yourself where you can keep up with the Joneses on your income.

More seriously, the pattern is of service to retirees who want to move to another area. Many factors go into such a decision. Any couple wants to take into account such things as climate, living conditions, transportation, neighbors, and leisure time facilities.

And expenses. Nothing is more important than the knowledge that you will have the funds to meet your expenses. That's why many retirees may want a copy of this report, and can get it by sending 35 cents to the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20540.

Message for Today

A giant radio telescope picked up bursts of static from a galaxy 2000 light years away. In them, scientists discovered these simple words:

"Earthmen, your planet is in danger. As your morals decay, your great cities slowly crumble. You will see wars and civil strife."

"But we offer you hope," the ancient message continued. "A new world. We can give you knowledge and bring you the peace for which you have searched so long..."

Science-fiction? Not entirely.

There is a message that originated in a distant place over 2000 years ago. It describes the world as it is today, and it offers hope for the future.

The Bible, inspired by God, is a very real message, one that you can begin reading today. Then go to church on Sunday and meet the Author there.

Frederic

By Mrs. Abbie Madill

Mr. and Mrs. James Hunt have moved here from St. Clair Shores, where he retired from working with the Budd Company. They have owned property in the Frederic area for 15 years and built a retirement home two years ago on it.

A number of parents from the Frederic area attended the band supper in Grayling last Wednesday.

The Kenneth Allens drove to Tri-City Airport Saturday to meet their son Fred, who was home for the weekend from his base at Little Creek, Va.

Miss Edith Payne of Flint spent the weekend with her mother.

About 15 members of the choir in the concert at Grayling Friday night were students who had gone from Frederic to the Grayling schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Cameron left Saturday for two nights with relatives in Owosso before going on Monday to their winter home in Palmetto, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lodge of Highland Park spent the weekend with Florence Leng and the George Lodges. Guests at the Lodge home also were Karen Morgan and friend Gary Fzabo of Saginaw. On Friday all were dinner guests of Florence Leng, including Mr. and Mrs. Duane Stuart of Grayling.

Mrs. Mary Osga and Mrs. Sharon Alma were in Traverse City on Monday on business.

P.J. Lodge has returned to Frederic from Detroit, to stay.

The Leo Gannons of Marquette are at their Frederic home for a few days. On the weekend their daughter and family, the Junior Gaertners of Saginaw visited them.

John Morris was away for three days recently revisiting his old home neighborhood at the Soo. He used to live there back in the early 1900's.

Bits O' Talk

Gary DuBois was home from his teaching position in Crosswell over the weekend, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard DuBois.

Mrs. Michael Lapka, Mrs. Fred Wiehe and Mary Joy Mathews were in Beaverton on Sunday and were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Jones.

Richard K. Nelson of Grand Rapids spent the weekend of Nov. 2 working on his house on Lake Margrethe and visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Nelson.

Memo

From Merrily

By Merrily Lacasse
Extension Home Economist

You may now put some spice back into a salt restricted diet, according to Michigan State University foods and nutrition researchers.

Commonly used salt substitutes are based on potassium chloride which has a bitter taste. To get a salty flavor while overcoming bitterness, and sodium restrictions, Dr. Olaf Mickelson studied mixtures of sodium and potassium chloride.

In general, one-to-one sodium potassium chloride mixtures are palatable and very similar in saltiness to equal weights of sodium chloride. Dr. Mickelson states. The mixtures permit an agreeable saltiness to food, but with half the sodium chloride in regular table salt.

Panelists were given meals which they seasoned to taste with different combinations of the two "salts." Each person had an individual salt shaker so the amount they used could be measured after each meal.

Mixtures with up to 50 percent potassium chloride were used in about the same quantity as regular table salt, Mickelson reports.

Sodium - potassium chloride mixtures are also effective in food processing. Panelists who ate bread and cured ham in which either sodium chloride or a one-to-one mixture of salts was used couldn't taste any difference.

Minor Attends English Conference

On Saturday, Nov. 9, the annual fall English conference, sponsored by Region 7, Michigan council of teachers of English, was held at Gaylord High School. The conference began with a coffee hour and registration at 9:00 a.m. Speaker for the morning session was Dr. John C. Hepler, former chairman of the English department at Central Michigan University.

His topic was "Observations of a College English Professor." Among his observations, Dr. Hepler noted that students today are better prepared when they enter college than students were 30 years ago. He said this was especially true in regard to grammar and contemporary fiction. However, he stated that modern students lack the ability to interpret poetry and the older classics in literature. He suggested that more emphasis be placed on these areas. He also stated that today's students are weak in extemporaneous writing. More effort, he said should be made in high school to get students to understand the basic ideas underlying the classics. He also suggested that grammar be taught as a formal subject in high school. More composition should be included in the English curriculum. If speech and English are included in the same department, then each English teacher should be competent to coach debate and forensics, as well as direct dramatics.

During the business meeting that followed the noon luncheon, Robert Buchner of Alpena, was re-elected as Region 7 Coordinator of the Michigan council of teachers of English. Speaker at the luncheon was the executive secretary of MCTE, Miss Mildred Webster of St. Joseph. She discussed the purpose of state organization. It was generally agreed by delegates present that English and speech are separate departments. It was pointed out that the MCTE and the Michigan speech association are two distinct and separate organizations with their own established constitutions and dues. Members were also reminded that the MCTE treats both areas as distinct groups in the annual state convention.

In the afternoon session, Homer Story, French instructor from Alpena High School, spoke on "A New Key for Old Doors." He demonstrated the use of the language laboratory in the teaching of English. Proper use of the language laboratory, he said, should make it almost impossible for a student to make mistakes. Correct ideas are reinforced immediately when the language laboratory is used properly. English teachers were asked to strive for the inclusion of language laboratories in each English classroom constructed in the future.

Attending the English conference from Grayling was Carl Minor, speech and drama director at GHS.

Federal Funds Available For Training in Lumber Industry

Dr. Eric Bordo, Director of the Ford Forestry Center, Michigan Technological University, L'Anse, has announced that funds are now available through the "Economic Development Program, in conjunction with the Michigan Employment Security Commission, for conducting classes in Lumber Inspection, and also to train Sawyers and Saw Filers.

These classes will be offered in an effort to alleviate the skilled labor shortage in the Lumber and Sawmill Industry.

In addition to the educational cost of conducting these schools, the federal funds allowed will also cover the cost of room and board for the students, plus stipend pay equal to unemployment benefits. For everyone 22 years of age or older, the stipend will begin at $9.00 per week, plus $5.00 per day allowance for their room and board, if attending the school necessitates them living away from home. Students, who are married, will receive 5.00 additional for each dependent child. As an example, a married man, with two children, would receive $4.00 per week, if required to live away from home while attending school.

Sawmill operators, in particular, are greatly enthused about the classes, now being offered, as well as the Forestry Aide Program which is now nearing completion. It is their expressed hope that anyone interested in enrollment will contact their nearest MESC office as soon as possible, since there is room for only twenty students in each class, or by contacting Dr. Eric Bordo, Ford Forestry Center, L'Anse, Michigan 49946, phone: area 906, 524-3236, or Al Gavoda, Regional Supervisor, Michigan Employment Security Commission, Hancock, Michigan, phone: area 906, 482-2100.

Because many prospective students may not be aware of the changes made in Sawmill Operations in the past few years, Albert Quaal, manager of the lumber operations for U.S. Plywood Corporation, in Gaylord, will be glad to show interested persons through the mill in Gaylord, any Monday through Friday, between 8:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. to enable them to see a modern sawmill in operation.

COUNTY - CITY SHARE IN HIGHWAY FUND.

LANSING — Third quarter Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections are being distributed to Michigan counties, cities and villages, the State Highway Commission announced recently.

Henrik E. Stafseth, State Director, said net receipts in July, August and September totaled $66,956,812, an increase of $10,834,206, or 11.9 percent more than the same period of 1967.

Most of the increase is attributed to the cent-a-gallon increase in the gas tax, which took effect last January 1.

(Crawford County's share is $85,900 while Grayling will receive $5,392.75.)

The Motor Vehicle Fund includes all state gasoline and diesel fuel taxes, and license plate fees. After deduction of collection costs and the Waterways Commission's share, 46 percent goes to the Department of State Highways, 34 percent to the counties, and 20 percent to 528 incorporated cities and villages for use on state and local highways, roads and streets.

Under this formula, the Highway Department will receive $30,804,273 as its share of third quarter collections, the counties $22,768,376, and the cities and villages $13,393,162.

Hong Kong Flu Vaccine "Crash Program" Requires 64,000 Fertile Eggs Per Day

One of the first published pictures of the Hong Kong influenza virus shows in this photo, virus particles magnified 133,000 times by an electron microscope. The black bar represents 4 millionths of an inch.

An Auto-Analyzer, one of several sophisticated and highly sensitive machines used to test Hong Kong influenza vaccine. This unit automatically checks the vaccine's potency in the Parke-Davis laboratories.

DETROIT — Parke, Davis & Company is operating a "crash program" to produce large quantities of vaccine to help protect the American people from an epidemic of Hong Kong influenza which medical authorities expect this winter.

"We are on a 'crash program' because we could not begin producing the vaccine until initial supplies of the Hong Kong virus arrived from the federal government," according to Dr. Joseph F. Sadusk, Jr., vice president for scientific and medical affairs.

"Then, of course, we have to produce the vaccine under scientifically controlled production and testing methods — all of which take time — but we are confident we can have a safe, potent vaccine ready by early December."

In meeting this emergency, the firm processes 64,000 large white fertile eggs daily in its race against time to get a vaccine to the public before the flu attacks.

"Because the vaccine is grown in chick embryos, we are one of Michigan's largest egg buyers," Dr. Sadusk commented, "and we probably are the only buyer who demands huge numbers of fertile eggs of one certain size."

"Our research has shown that we can produce the vaccine most efficiently from white eggs which weigh 23 ounces per dozen, and which are less than a week old."

When the nest clean eggs arrive at the vaccine production facility, they are placed in an incubator for 11 days. From there, they are shifted to a darkened area for candling.

Next, the eggs go to the inoculation room, where they are sprayed with an antiseptic solution, injected with the Hong Kong influenza virus and put into a second incubator for two days.

After the eggs receive a second antiseptic bath, the top section is removed and the vaccine fluid harvested. Depending on how well the virus grows, up to two doses of unfinished vaccine are obtained from each egg.

Finally, technical processes and a series of tests — some approximately two to three weeks in length to assure the vaccine's purity, safety, efficacy, and acceptability to patients — are required before it can be bottled, packaged, labeled, re-tested and air shipped to distribution branches throughout the country.

Importance of Vaccine "Though influenza caused by the Hong Kong strain appears to be a mild disease, a protective vaccine is extremely important," Dr. Sadusk added. "When a new strain of virus like this occurs — one against which existing vaccines cannot protect — it is possible that the virus can change as it passes from one person to another and become much more serious, or produce complications in certain people."

"The aged, very young, and people suffering chronic diseases are the ones who likely will suffer most from this flu," Dr. Sadusk added.

Gun Registration Period, Nov. 2 Through Dec. 1

DETROIT — Anyone having an unregistered machine gun, sawed-off shotgun, short barreled rifle or other gangster-type weapon, or a device such as a bomb, grenade or land mine, may register it with the Internal Revenue Service without penalty from Nov. 2 through Dec. 1.

The Gun Control Act of 1968, signed into law last week, establishes a 30-day period for the registration of certain weapons and destructive devices. The registration requirement does not affect ordinary rifles, shotguns, pistols and revolvers. The Gun Control Act law provides that information or evidence submitted in registering a weapon during this period cannot be used against the registrant in any criminal proceeding arising out of a prior or concurrent violation of the law.

However, this would not prevent prosecution for furnishing false information.

Firearms and devices covered by the registration requirements must be registered by filing Form 4467, in duplicate, with Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, Internal Revenue Service, Washington, D.C. 20224.

Anyone with a weapon to register should write or phone an office of the IRS and obtain a copy of Form 4467. Weapons and devices should not be brought to IRS offices for the purpose of registration.

Former servicemen should register any automatic weapon, pistols with shoulder stock, or other National Firearms Act weapon they might have as a souvenir of their military days.

Anyone with a bomb or grenade should make sure it is deactivated. The IRS can make arrangements to have the device inspected and deactivated.

The registration requirement for gangster-type weapons dates back to the National Firearms Act of 1934. There is no Federal registration requirement for ordinary rifles, shotguns, pistols and revolvers, although certain controls on the sales of these weapons become effective Dec. 16, 1968, as part of the new gun law.

Firearms which must be registered under the Act include shotguns with barrels less than 18 inches long, rifles with barrels less than 16 inches long and altered rifles and shotguns with an overall length of less than 26 inches, such as shotguns or rifles cut down to pistol size or shape.

Other firearms covered by the registration requirements: Fully automatic guns, such as machine guns and pistols that fire more than one shot by a single function of the trigger, and firearm mufflers or silencers. In addition, registration is required of all weapons or devices, except for conventional pistols or revolvers, which are capable of firing a shot and being concealed on a person and weapons formerly classified as "DEWATS" — deactivated war trophies.

Destructive devices, such as explosives, incendiary or poison gas bombs, grenades, rockets, missiles, mines and certain projectile firing weapons, namely anti-tank guns, bazookas and mortars, also must be registered.

Anyone who possesses a firearm or destructive device, as defined by National Firearms Act, who fails to register the weapon between November 2 and December 1 as required by the Gun Control Act, will be subject to imprisonment up to 10 years, a fine up to $10,000 or both for each weapon not registered. Under certain conditions, the law provides civil penalties and property forfeitures.

School Board Minutes

The regular meeting was called to order Sept. 9 with all members present. The board agreed to exchange easement locations on the East Branch property for Mr. Montgomery. The Board will allow an easement along the southern line of the property in exchange for cancellation of the present easement through the middle of the property.

Woody Atkinson from Manson, Jackson & Kane, architects discussed their school survey plan. It was decided to also ask Central Michigan University's survey team to present their program Sept. 13. In the meantime Joseph Stripe would inquire into MJK survey done in the area.

Stripe informed the board that milk prices this year will be 6.75 plus straws. A letter from Milo was read asking our interest in an area meeting to discuss teacher negotiations. The Board is in favor of such a meeting, hopefully in March.

It was brought to the Board's attention that there is some conflict of interest on the tennis courts with basketball fans in the summer program. Must provide a solution by spring. It was suggested that another court be made between the magic square and the football field fences. A motion was made by Smock and seconded by Harwood that the board accept the resolution to borrow. Carried.

Kolb moved to buy a new bus to replace No. 1 bus. Seconded by Smock and carried.

Moved by Fowler and seconded by Burns to pay the invoices. Carried.

Mr. Dean discussed overcrowding of the first grade and the teacher aid program. He also showed the board the program for adult education.

Motion to let the Chamber of Commerce use a bus for the Nov. 2 transportation of car race participants was made by Smock seconded by Harwood. Five votes for and two against. Passed. Adjourned at 11:35.

The board met informally Sept. 13 to hear the CMU survey team present the outline of their program. Their survey would not include evaluation of architectural drawings. They would charge by the hour for this service. They do not assist in presenting the findings of the survey to the public.

A special meeting of the Crawford Ausable School District Board of Education was called to order Sept. 18 at 8:15. Charles Kolb, absent. Bob Bovee sitting in. Supt. Stripe presented his report of area schools using Manson, Jackson and Kane and Central Michigan University survey teams. The board discussed advantages of using both surveys in our area because of our unique growth problems. MJK deals mostly with population increase study where CMU deals largely with educational development and trends, both overlapping on some areas. However, it was decided that the board really needs both surveys for check and balance information. Burns moved to retain CMU to make a survey of educational needs of the area, seconded by Smock. Carried. It was decided that we can still use MJK when we see the CMU report if we need the further information.

Supt. Stripe was instructed to set up interviews with the top six architectural firms working in the state.
He presented the bids on buses. Ford bid $3,807, with the body bid $3,990. Chevrolet bid $3,775. The Chevrolet had a larger power unit as well as the lowest bid and was accepted. Adjourned at 9:30 p.m.

WASHINGTON AND SMALL BUSINESS
BY C. WILSON HARRIS
The Credibility Gap

As is usual during an election year, news media is subjected to a great many attacks, and criticisms, and this year seems to set a high mark.

Fortunately, most newsmen are fairly thick skinned, and in addition, it has long been recognized that everybody, including those who can barely write a literate sentence, is a self-proclaimed news expert.

But when a top ranking newsmen such as Roscoe Born, associate editor of the National Observer, the Dow Jones weekly paper, voices criticism, serious attention is merited.

In a recent speech in Kansas, Born declared what he termed the "wolf-pack" approach to news reporting common in Washington, D.C. which results when reporters take on face value purported facts and surveys released from some government agency.

He specifically mentioned the hue and cry raised that resulted in bringing all meat packing plants under Federal inspection, which in turn results in more jobs for Dept. people.

The National Observer, he asserted, assigned a reporter who spent six months checking the facts which showed that some of the reports written by Federal inspectors who visited state inspected meat plants had been "doctored" in Washington to eliminate favorable references.

Of course, completely looked was the fact by millions of pounds of meat imported into the United States from foreign slaughter not subjected to any inspection, federal or otherwise, it might be said that Born's comments toward the fact newsmen, especially in Washington, should part their homework a little assiduously in order to obtain one of the principal functions of a free press—protecting the people from excessive government.

LIBRARY NAMES WINNING BOOKS

The Crawford County library is happy to announce the winning books in an election held the week of Nov. 4-9 at the library. In the pre-school age group "Cowboy Sam" was the winner.

Grades kindergarten through third there was a five-way tie between "Cinderella," "Hansel and Gretel," "Moby Dick," "The Cat in the Hat," and "The Three Bears."

The fourth to sixth grades also had a five-way tie between "King of the Wind," the Laura Ingalls Wilder series, "Dr. Do-It-Yourself," "The Black Stallion," and "Three Boys in Space."

In the seventh and eighth grades the winner was the Laura Ingalls Wilder series. Eighty-two second graders from the Grayling Elementary School walked down to vote, and from the second graders, whose teacher is Mrs. Leonard Knibbs, the library received 30 letters, of which this is a copy:

Dear Mrs. Souder:
Thank you for helping us vote for our favorite book. We enjoyed seeing all of the library.

Thank you also, for the book-marks.

Your friends,
The Second Graders

Test Tubes and Animals

"Enter at your own risk, everything has gone wrong today." With this sign on the door, 35 high school chemistry and physics students last week stepped into the Michigan State University laboratories that contain about two and a half million dollars worth of equipment, and where some 4,000 freshmen students take chemistry classes every year.

There was almost too much to see, and to know that perhaps in any one of the test tubes or through any one of the hundreds of microscopes could be the answer to cancer or other research work was almost beyond imagination.

The afternoon tour of the veterinary clinic gave the students an opportunity to view the actual animal operations, to see both large and small animal wards, and what the grad students call the King Kong autopsy room.

Paul Lerg and Mrs. E. W. Beery, cancer education chairman, accompanied the students on this third field trip. Richard Thompson was the bus driver.

SPORTS FACT

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By Bill Schor

It may come as a surprise to you to learn how much actual playing time there is in a pro football game. A national sports service has released figures that surprised us — they show there are only about 15 minutes of actual playing time in a game. For the remainder of the more than two hours of a football game, there are huddles, time-outs, penalties, plays discussed or walked off, players unspilling after a tackle, ends coming back after going out for a pass, etc. For only 15 minutes or so, is the ball actually in play.

Do you know which athlete in history holds the record for winning the most gold medals for first place finishes in the Olympics? An American set the record back in 1900-1908. He was Ray Ewry who won eight gold medals, and no one has ever been able to top that, before or since.
